

Artabotrys hexapetalus

Kingdom:	Plantae
Clade:	Angiosperms
Order:	Magnoliales
Family:	Annonaceae
Genus:	Artabotrys
Species:	A. hexapetalus

- Artabotrys hexapetalus (Climbing Ylang-Ylang)
- Common Names: Climbing ylang-ylang, ylang-ylang vine, tail grape.
- Geographic Distribution: Found in India, Burma, southern China, and Taiwan.
- Flowers:
- Appearance: Initially green, turning yellow as they age.
- Fragrance: Highly fragrant with a fruity, pleasant smell.
- Longevity: The flowers are long-lasting.
- Growth:
- Initial Form: Starts as a shrub.
- Climbing Nature: Becomes a climber after reaching about 2 meters in height.